WHAT IS FAMILY SUPPORT?
WHAT IS CAN PREVENTION?

National Summit on the Intersection of Domestic Violence and Child Maltreatment
 Inspiration to Innovation, Leadership, Partnership, and Change
 Jackson Hole, Wyoming June 2-4, 2008

PRINCIPLES OF FAMILY SUPPORT:

1. Relationships based on respect
2. Enhancing family capacity
3. Families as their own resource
4. Affirm and strengthen families' cultural, racial and ethnic identities
5. Programs are embedded in their communities
6. Programs advocate with families
7. Practitioners work with families to mobilize resources
8. Programs are flexible
9. Principles of family support are modeled in all program activities

DEFINING PREVENTION
 ...a systematic process that promotes healthy environments and behaviors and reduces the likelihood or frequency of violence against women.
 -Prevention Institute

“The prevention of violence against women and girls is a process of changing attitudes, behaviors, beliefs, and institutional norms of 'acceptable' violence and discrimination, through an evolutionary and revolutionary process within an inherited system of inequality detrimental to society. This nonlinear process of transformative education supports the creation of a safe, just, equitable and healthy environment, so that women and girls and men and boys may live violence-free lives.”

DEFINING PREVENTION
 Primary - Universal
 Secondary - Selected
 Tertiary - Indicated

The Prevention Continuum

Primary	Secondary	Tertiary
Approaches that take place BEFORE violence has occurred to prevent initial perpetration or victimization	Immediate responses AFTER violence has occurred to deal with the consequences in the short-term	Long-term responses AFTER violence to deal with the lasting consequences and treatment interventions

PRIMARY PREVENTION:
 ...targets the general population and offers services and activities
before any signs of undesired behaviors may be present; no screening occurs.

National Summit on the Intersection of Domestic Violence and Child Maltreatment

SECONDARY PREVENTION:

...is directed at those who are “at risk” of possibly maltreating or neglecting children. Determining who is at risk is based on etiological studies of why maltreatment may occur. Secondary prevention efforts and services are also provided before CAN occur.

National Summit on the Intersection of Domestic Violence and Child Maltreatment
 Inspiration to Innovation: Leadership, Partnership, and Change
 Jackson Hole, Wyoming June 2-4, 2008  Family Violence Prevention Fund

TERTIARY PREVENTION:

...is provided after maltreatment has occurred, to reduce the impact of maltreatment and avoid future abuse. Tertiary prevention is treatment, working with children who have been abused or working with families where abuse has occurred.

Cost Effective Investments in Children

Based on a review of benefit-cost evidence, this paper identifies four areas of investment that merit expanded federal funding even in a time of fiscal austerity. America's future economic well-being will benefit from targeted investments to ensure that children have the skills to become tomorrow's adult workers, caregivers, taxpayers, and citizens.

MEN CAN STOP RAPE:

REDEFINING MASCULINITY...
 MCSR has led the call to redefine masculinity and male strength as part of preventing men's VAW.

REDEFINING THE PROBLEM...
 MCSR seeks to displace traditional definitions of men as "the problem," to embracing men as vital allies with the will and character to make healthy choices and foster safe, equitable relationships.

Primary Prevention of Child Sexual Abuse
 CDC is funding researchers from the Medical University of South Carolina to conduct a controlled evaluation of media products developed by From Darkness to Light, a nonprofit child sexual abuse prevention organization. Focus groups will be conducted on the content and presentation of the media campaign. The evaluation will provide useful information for approaching the problem of child sexual assault and strategies for refining prevention messages.
